Capturing Kids Hearts – An Overview

Last year, our School District adopted the Capturing Kids Hearts (CKH) system to help staff form greater connections with students as well as all other staff members. There were trainings held and continued emphasis put on rolling it out through the year. This year, we're working to more fully implement the CKH model in all aspects of our school. As the name implies, the idea is that if we are purposeful about forming and building relationships, we will capture hearts in a way that will allow us all to grow and improve together each day. This thinking is not new to CES, but we are now using our PRIDE Promises, Good Things, Affirmations and Launches to get there. Over the next month, we will continue to tell you about each of these areas and how they come together to make us a world-class CKH school!

True Blue Bruin T-Shirt Exchange

This past Friday we had our first True Blue Bruin Friday, and it was, of course, a wonderfully blue day! However, we do have many students who are new to our community and school, who do not yet have a fabulous Cedaredge Bruin shirt. With those students in mind, we are starting a True Blue Bruin T-Shirt Exchange. If you have any leftover shirts (maybe they are too small or too large or maybe you just want to give some Bruin shirts away), please drop them by our front office! Thank you!

No School – Monday, September 25th

There will be no school for all Delta County elementary schools (middle and high schools will have school that day) this Monday. Our staff will use that day to prepare for our Parent-Teacher Conferences, which begin that evening. Conference confirmation forms will be going home with this week's Tuesday Express, so please be on the lookout for those with your confirmed times.
