Parent Teacher Conferences:

One Day Down...One to Go!

We completed our first day of remote (either virtual or telephone) conferences and so far we have participation above 95%. If you did miss your conference time yesterday, please give us a call to reschedule. Although this year's format may look and feel different, we are so grateful for the amazing participation so far! We refuse to let the pandemic get in the way of our partnership with families, and this conference is crucial for enhancing communication and goal setting! Thank you!

Storybook Day - October 29th

We will have more information soon, but we did want to communicate that DCSD elementary schools are planning to proceed with Storybook Day this year on October 29th. As always, we ask that costumes are based on books and stories, that they are not intended to scare or frighten and that there are no accessories with them. We will have class parties that afternoon, but no outside adults will be allowed into the building and any items sent to contribute to the classroom parties are individually wrapped. Thank you for your support and understanding!

The Weekly Expressions:

Hang in there. Many of life's failures are people who did not realize how close they were to success when they gave up.

Parent Den Organizes Pledge Run Fundraiser

Next week, we will be sending home Pledge Forms for a fundraiser our Parent Den is creating to promote health while raising money for our school. Students will have time then to secure either flat rate or per lap donations. Then, during our PE time on Friday, October 23rd, grade levels will run our track and count laps. We will have more information going out next week!

Helping Cope with Grief

The Learning Council and HopeWest are teaming up to present a virtual workshop for anyone facing grief.

These workshops will be taking place October 14, 21 and 28 and will be held in a Zoom meeting. To register, please visit <http://www.thelearningcouncil.org> and for any questions, contact Carrie Bauer (874.0628).
